The Accolade

KNEELING in silence at the foot of the altar of a chapel was a young squire, who was to be made a knight on the following morning. As the long hours of the night passed he thought of the years of his service under the master knight to whom he had been bound as squire, of the tests of honor and valor he had come through, and finally of the ceremonies of the knighting. He was to remain in the chapel until dawn, keeping guard over his armor.

At last daylight came, and soon a procession, headed by the master knight, entered the chapel. A priest solemnly blessed the armor on the altar, and the knight administered the oath of chivalry and loyalty. Then unsheathing his sword, he touched the young squire upon each shoulder, saying, "Rise, Sir Knight." This was the Accolade; the symbol of bestowing the rights and duties of knighthood upon a squire. Now the youth was free to go forth and make his name as a knight in the world.

There is in Barringer a group of squires who are about to receive their accolade. They have gone through a long period of preparation and are now looking forward to the ceremony that will set them free to go forth to show their worth in the contests of the world. They bear upon their shields the emblem of Truth, Honor and Light, and they will do their utmost to keep clear the fame of that emblem. Strength and glory to the new knights. May they do credit to their master knights!

Leaves From a Diary

February 3, 1923—To-day I had my first taste of High School. It's very queer. We don't have to march in and out as we used to do at Grammar School. I guess I like it, but it made me feel bad when a senior laughed at my skinny knees. I don't care though, they were Freshies once!

March 15, 1923—The Dignified Seniors gave us a reception. We were entertained in the Auditorium, and then we went to the Gym, where we grabbed lolly-pops and watched the Seniors dance. All our mothers were invited, but they went to the Library and drank tea and met our teachers. I'll have to work a lot because my teachers gave Mother an earful. All at once, too. * * * Poor me!

February, 1924—I am a Sophomore now, and have passed to the "Wise Fool" age. * * *

April 1, 1924—I have been having a peachy time at school lately. I have made many new friends who are lots of fun. The other day, just after I had planted a nice chalky eraser on Bill's back, in walked the teacher. Well, I am still going to detention. * * * I won't let Mother know, because she thinks that I stay in with my friends. Well, so I do!

September 30, 1925—I am a Junior A already, for time has flown. Our class organized to-day. Mrs. Hultman is our class adviser. We elected Victor Tortoriello, President; Eleanor Palmer, Vice-President; Doris Frost, Treasurer, and Marion Spanjer, Secretary. Some bunch!

December 3, 1925—Our class held an auction in the Gym to-day. It was a big success, and there was plenty of noise. Now we can boast of a well-stocked treasury. Wiener is some auctioneer! The music was good, anyway.

February 2, 1926—I am a Junior no more. Look me over, boys! I am a full-fledged Senior. We have elected Art Voorhees, President; Doris Frost, Vice-President; Dot Maier, Secretary, and Harry Frost, Treasurer. Congratulations!

April, 1926—I am tired to-night! We held a reception for the 4A's to-day in the Gym. We gave prizes for the best dancers and also a prize for the couple who had the Lucky Number. The Senior A's seemed to be having a good time. One of the prizes was a silk handkerchief, and it just matched Bill McDowell's suit. He was the winner. That's footwork for you!

May, 1926—More money for our treasury! We brought Greenwich Village to the Lunch Room to-day. The place was decorated beautifully and spookily. The only light was from some orange candles. I shall never forget it. Punch and ginger ale disappeared in large quantities.

September 3, 1926—A Senior A at last! Our class is organized for the last time. The officers are: Henry Schoettly, President; Elsie Cueman, Vice-President; Florence Brady, Secretary, and Harry Frost, Treasurer. I have to work real hard this term, because I want to get a Scholarship Diploma.

October 12, 1926—Goodness! My pocketbook is flat! To-day I ordered Christmas Cards from a sense of duty.

October 16, 1926—I've just got back from the football game. Dickinson surely did knock all our hopes for a championship flat! Well, the other games haven't been so worse, at that. Just wait till we lick East Orange!

November 10, 1926—My feet are just aching to-night. I have danced almost all afternoon. We held our Senior Prom to-day. I had a fine time, and we made a lot of money for our treasury. There were prizes given for the best dancers and for the Lucky Number dance. I won a prize, and I feel as though I owned the world.

November 17, 1926—This is positively the last day on which I may hand in material for the Accolade—so says the Editor-in-Chief.

Adieu

Oh! these last remaining hours—
How dreary they lag by.
Our four short happy years are past,
And now it is good-bye.

The Class of Nineteen Twenty-Seven
Bids you a sad adieu.
The time has come, dear Alma Mater,
When we must die or do.

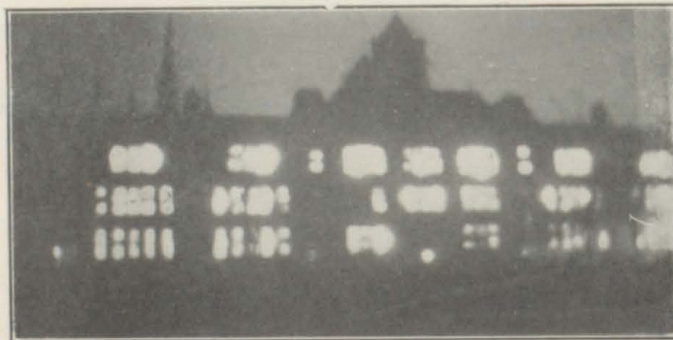

The hardships that we have endured
Within the last four years,
And former joys cannot amend
The last remaining tears.

Dear Barringer High, our Alma Mater,
How it doth grieve us so
To leave behind a friend so kind
Now that we have to go.

But grieve not, Mother of Knowledge,
For if a son you've lost;
Another one will soon be here
Who will be worth the cost.

Good-bye, O, Alma Mater, dear,
It breaks our hearts to say;
The Class of Nineteen Twenty-Seven
Must take its leave to-day.

ANTHONY A. TONUS, JR.

B MEN 19 <sup>of</sup> 27.

ROBERT "BOB" DOLINS

"BOB" as an athletic Barringerite, confined his efforts to baseball. He came out for baseball in the spring of 1924, and after hard work rose to the second team as short-stop. Fighting "Bob" went out again in 1925 and this time was shifted to second base. His fine playing on the second earned him a B2. In his last year in school and baseball, 1926, Bob made a final and successful effort to make the varsity. He alternated at second and short. At the end of the baseball season he was awarded his much-coveted B.

CHARLES "CHARLIE" FORTUNATO

CHARLEY FORTUNATO, otherwise known as the man with the biggest smile, was born with a pair of track shoes on his feet. So, using nature's endowment, he went out for the freshman track team in 1923. He practiced faithfully and returned to Coach Bauman in 1924. For his good running in '24 he was awarded a B2. But Charley would not be denied. Pursuing the cinder path again in 1925, he scored thirteen points and was awarded his B at the close of the season.

CHESTER "CHET" ROTHACKER

DOESN'T that name Chet remind us of the famous Chet Bowman of Long Branch and Syracuse? Well, he has nothing over on our Rothacker. When soccer was first organized in 1924, Chet went out for the team. He made the varsity but no letters were awarded that year. In 1925, he responded to Coach Bauman's track call. Chet succeeded in scoring seven points thereby winning his big white B. Returning to soccer again in 1926, Rothacker again made the varsity and was awarded his script B at the end of the season. His were successful efforts.

CHOICE "BONES" FRAZIER

"BONES" FRAZIER certainly deserves his little column. To a man who will stick to a sport for four long years belongs the gravy. Through years 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, Choice stuck to track. And his efforts were duly rewarded. In 1923, he received his B2. Continuing his conquests in 1924, he was awarded his B after scoring twelve points for the team. Enter year 1925 with a crown belonging to "Bones" saying "Eight-Hundred and Eighty-Yard City Champion." Another B. At last 1926, his banner year, eleven points and another much-coveted B. But we musn't forget that Choice also played football in 1925 and 1926.

KENNETH FELTER

KEN! What a great name for a truly great athlete. Our Ken started his famous football career in 1924 while playing on the third team. This same year he played on Barringer's rst soccer team. 1925 came and Ken went out for baseball. He made the second team. He also tried indoor track which kept him in training for football. The season shows that Ken advanced to the second team. He played in two games and got his B2. In 1926, he played sub on the varsity baseball team but missed the East Orange game. Now football brought him fame as a smashing quarter and fullback. He received his B.

JAMES "JIMMY" KONKLE

OUR own Jimmy began training in 1923 when he went out for football. He studied the game faithfully and returned to the gridiron in 1924. For his efforts he received a B2. Jimmy gained steadily and in 1925 he was successful in earning a substitute berth on the varsity team. He got into the East Orange game and received his B, gold football and championship wreath. Konkle was just about made now. He tried track in early 1926 and won a B2. Returning to his favorite sport, he earned a varsity berth at half-back and a B.

EMANUEL "MANNY" FOX

MANNY FOX has always been a faithful Barringer sport man. He has always tried and done his best on every occasion. He started his career in 1924 when he went out for track. He practiced steadily and was not disheartened at the end of the season. He came back to track in 1925 and received his B2. In this year he started his football career, playing on the second team. 1926 rolled around, the height of his success on the track for he kept Barringer in the running by scoring thirty-six points. A truly great runner. He also earned his B in football, playing at left-end.

PATSY "BUFF" LEARDO

IS it possible that there is anyone who does not know our Buff? Leardo first felt the cleated turf in 1924. This year he made the third team and got into the East Side game. But Patsy was not to be denied, so in 1925 he again went out for football. This time he earned his B, gold football and championship wreath on the state championship team. After football he pursued track, missing his B by one point. This year finds Buff earning his B on Coach Pritchard's varsity eleven.

JOHN "MAC" MACKIN

AMBLING, rambling Johnny Mackin. Who would think that you were so energetic? In 1923 Johnny went out for football. The following year, 1924, Mac tried football, baseball and soccer. He was awarded his script B for soccer. Again football rolled around, and this year B, gold football and championship wreath. After football, Mac took up swimming and I'll say he can swim. He secured his script B. This same year he went out for baseball but unfortunately had to leave the sport. In 1926, Mac again went out for football and received his B.

HENRY "HIMMEL" SCHOETTLY

CLAP HANDS! Here comes Schoettly. Our big president first fought for dear old Barringer in 1921, when he pursued the art of pole vaulting. For his efforts he received his B2. The following year he reported to the football team, gaining a B2 after the season's work. Now he answered the track call, 1923, again gaining a B2. This same year he tried to organize a gym team but was unsuccessful. He was elected captain of the gym team in 1925, 1926. 1924 rolled around and Schoettly gained his block B by scoring nine points for the track team. Repeating in football, he earned a B, gold football and championship wreath. In 1926, he again took in football, earning his B. Some hot record. Here is some excellent material for some college team.

FOOTBALL TEAM, 1926

HAROLD ALTMAN

HEARDED of Harold? No doubt. He is one of our faithful minor sportsmen. Swimming was his sport and he sure was successful because he made the swimming team in 1925, 1926. He was awarded his script B both seasons.

SOLLY FORCELLA

SOLLY sure is a whiz at the old Scotch game of soccer. He plays it just as it should be played. If you have watched the team you have seen him on the varsity in 1925, 1926. He was captain of the 1926 team. He was awarded his script B each year.

WILLIAM F. KEIM

W. F. K. popularly known as Kim or Kimme has always loved the good old game of tennis. Tilden, Richards and La Coste have been and still are his models. He was once as green as the grass, but is now a whiz at the racket game. He earned his script B in 1926.

SIDNEY KIRSCHEN

NEEDED it be said that soccer is a popular pastime with Sid? One can almost invariably see him practicing the art of heading, passing and booting the ball. His broad chest has stopped many an enemy's would-be goal. Script B for the 1926 season.

JOSEPH MARTIN

JOE was one of the mainstays of the 1926 tennis team. As a pioneer, he helped to put tennis on its feet in Barringer High School. To him belongs the credit along with his other associates of developing a new sport in our school. He earned his script B.

PATSY SANTORO

PATSY was one of the main cogs in that famous passing combination of Forcella to Kirschen to Santoro and then between the goal posts. He was one of Coach Payton's dependables on the 1926 soccer team. For his efforts he was awarded a script B.

Senior Hockey Team

THE members of the team are: Capt. Friedman, Sylvia Meisel, Anna Rudy, Angelina Di Iorio, Virginia Stevens, Gladys Merrill, Elsie Cueman, Betty Rabinowitz, Elizabeth Walker, Francis Mears and Mary Shreehan. The team was well organized with a capable leader and had a successful season. Although they did not engage in many interclass battles, yet in the championship tournament they showed the old fighting Barringer spirit. They fought hard and clean, and left for themselves a record that will be hard to beat in the future.

Gold Tassel Girls

FRIEDA "FRITZ" FRIEDMAN

IF you have ever been down to watch our senior hockey team practice, no doubt you have heard a husky voice shout, "Come on, girls, do a little passing." That person was no one else but little Fritz. A staunch believer in gym meets and exhibitions. She took part in the 1924, 1925 meets, and the 1926 exhibition. Inside the four walls of the gym, she was a captain for four years. And a great little captain of the 1924 and 1926 hockey teams. She is another one of the very few girls who have obtained their gold tassel.

GLADYS "GLAD" MERRILL

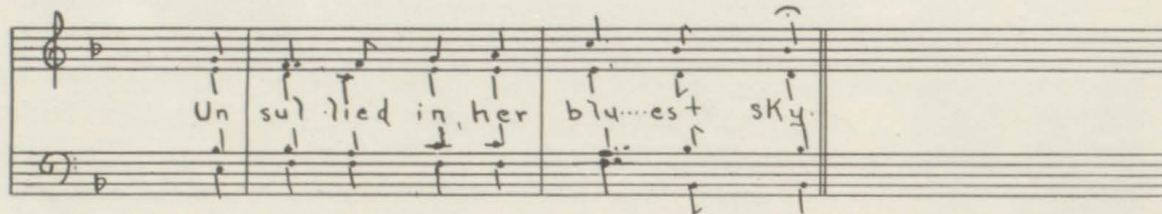

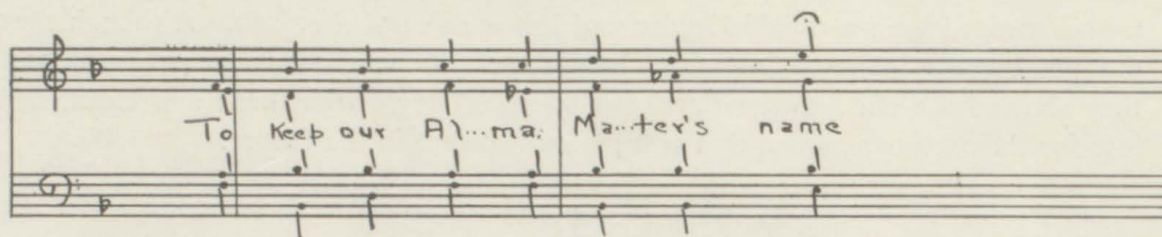

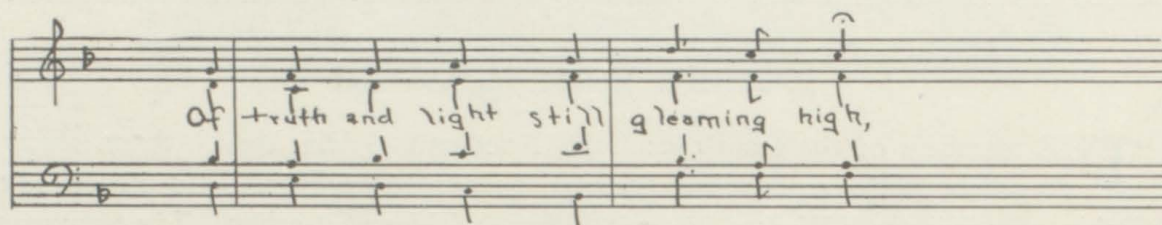

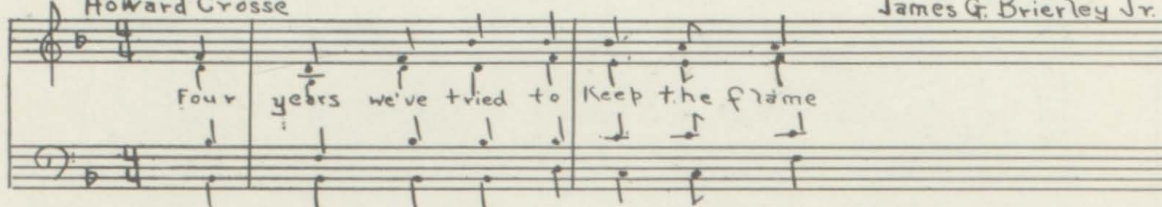

"GLAD" has been one of the most active of all our athletic girls. She first made a name for herself in 1924, when she entered the gym meet. Continuing her good work, Gladys took part in the gym exhibitions of 1925 and 1926. When the stadium was finished, she not only took part in the opening, but also had a leading part in the exhibition. As a leader she has been a gym captain every year. Glad is one of the few girls to get all the cords and a gold tassel.

Class Song

Music by James G. Brierley Jr.

Now as we go our different ways,
We carry from that sacred flame
A glowing spark within our hearts,
To light us to success and fame.

And so to other hands we pass
The torch of Honor, Truth, and Light,
That in the years that are to come,
They'll ever keep it shining bright.

Four Horsemen of immortal fame
In Twenty-Six make great their name.
For all misdeeds they get the blame,
Whate'er be done 'tis always just the same
Four Horsemen.

Historic annals needs must hold
These honored names fore'er enrolled
In parchment, in refulgent gold
Sir Sam, Sir Frank, Sir Ben, Sir Eb, the bold
Four Horsemen.

Vic-Tort is just a bluff,
Saying that is 'most enough.

A radio operator Easton wanted to be
To fix his antenna he climbed a tree
But strange to say
In some odd way,
He fell from a limb and broke his knee.

There's a certain good-looking young chap
Who doesn't for girls give a rap,
His name is Rodino
And not Valentino
And so he is not on the map.

Sam Lemer grins from ear to ear,
Some day he'll swallow them, I fear.

Artie Bernstein is so small to see,
That people think he's in 1B.

Bill Casseres is quite discreet,
With great big ears and massive feet.

Doris Frost our editorette,
Is she competent? You bet.

Our Latin shark, Dot Maier, cried
"Oh, dear! I have a dreadful thought in mind;
To Holyoke I'll go," she sighed,
"But how can I leave Casseres behind?"

James Brierly is fussy as a lass,
The only old maid in the 4A class.

Ben Yasner is a business man,
He adds an ad whene'er he can.

Jeanette Burgyes a maiden fair,
Has bright red cheeks and auburn hair.

Helen Williams, so very sedate,
She's never been known to come in late!

Jimmie Konkle, the football man,
Plays the game the best he can.

Doris McNeil wears pretty clothes,
She's a model from head to toes.

Florence Rich works all day,
But in the end she'll find 'twill pay.

Herman Eberiel argues all day long,
He's always right and never wrong?!

"All tall boys look good to me,"
Says Ethel Peterson, merrily.

Cataldo thinks that he can sing,
But, "Oh, Death, where is thy sting!"

Manny Wiener cracks many a joke,
But his hearers don't laugh, they usually choke.

Dorothy Ingling, very gay—
She laughs and giggles all the day.

Franklin Keim is very wise,
His knowledge fills us with surprise.

As a bee goes after honey,
Harry Frost goes after money.

Armored Allen quiet, demure,
Could never shout, of that we're sure.

The Magic Future

Directly after his Accolade,
A strong young knight and fair,
Lay down beside a babbling brook
And saw a vision there.

And in this vision clear and strong,
He watched throughout a year,
In their daily walks of life,
The graduates of Barringer dear.

And this is what he saw:

At a commission meeting, Henry Schoettly, Mayor of the City of Newark, was presiding. He was in violent argument with the commissioners, Harold Altman, George Jacobowitz, Arthur Voorhees, Emanuel Fox, and John Papera, over the subject of supplying medals to the champion road repairmen of the city. Sam Lemer, George Camfield, and Frank Scalera, in behalf of the workmen, spoke in favor of this grant. Finally the commissioners were convinced, and the secretary, Helen Beck, was told to show the delegation out. Soon after, the medals were presented to Stanley Stark, Chester Rothacker, Anthony Tonus, and Patsy Santoro, the members of the champion road repair squad.

While the Mayor was away at the presentation, his private secretaries, Dorothy Williams and Virginia Stevens discovered in his mail a letter which served as important evidence in the divorce suit between the Mayor and his wife, the former Augusta Amend. The case was tried before the Honorable loquacious Judge, Herman Eberiel. The prominent lawyers, Marion Spanjer and Julius Fielo argued in behalf of the Mayor, while the famous Horace Prioletta and Sydney Kirschen supported his wife's plea. Eleanor Palmer and Helen Williams were named as co-respondents. The "big men" at the trial were the following political bosses, Harry Frost, Sidney Lipstein, James Konkle, and Joseph Martin.

After the trial, these politicians adjourned to the drug store of Charles Schribe. In the window of the store, Franklin Keim was blowing glass to the great amusement of Samuel Pfeffer, Anthony Moccia, and Harry Kesner, the "drug store cow-boys." Sipping sodas and gazing into the eyes of the handsome clerk, Elwood Freeman, were Margaret Budd, Estelle Woodhall, Rosslyn Cohn and Margaret Gegenheimer. Victor Tortoriello was in the second stage of asphyxiation due to the enormous clouds of smoke emitted by the cigar salesmen, David Burkitt, Frank Cataldo and Frank Scalera. Going out of the store for a breath of air, Victor stumbled head-first into Robert Dolins who was staggering under the weight of a huge sign, advertising the combined circus of Crosse and Leardo.

Here the vision shifted to the circus ground. Emanuel Wiener and Carl Kempf were bellowing forth the merits of the greatest side show on earth, while Frank Coppola took the hard-earned money of the unknowing spectators. On the inside, Angelina Di Iorio, Elsie Cueman, James Kocan and Ben Calabrese were being thrilled by the astounding bulk of Millicent Krenrich, beside whom the minute Arthur Bernstein could hardly be seen. Frances Siccardi, the sword swallower, was arguing with Elmer Easton, the tall man; Armored Allen, the snake charmer and Ethel Peterson, the long-haired lady, over the proposed appointment of Kenneth Tiffany as band leader.

At this moment the band, under the proposed leader, started up in great discord, drowning the other horrible noises coincident with circus life. Harry Eisenberg, inspired with the great enthusiasm of his leader, succeeded in pushing his sliding trombone through George Wendle's bass drum, while Ernest Ciccone, the clown, poured water into Arthur Lesser's bass horn.

In the big tent, Frieda Friedman and her troupe of acrobats, consisting of Viola Arnold, Emily Betschinger, Jennie Ciccone and Genevieve De Maio were preparing for their act under the guidance of Howard Crosse and his wife, the former Doris Frost. Kenneth Felter was being chased about the cage by the hungry lions, which he was trying to tame, while his wife, nee Florence Brady, danced about the outside, trying to shoot the leader.

Among the passively interested spectators were Wesley Cadmus and John Keefer. Lucretia Bufano, Emma De Vita and Minnie Ferrara were hidden behind a screen of powder with which they were covering themselves in preparation for the tableaux. Gladys Merrill, Dorothy Ingling and Marie Longo were dancing the Charleston on a tight-rope, while Sollie Forcella and Samuel Gerber rushed wildly about with a mattress to catch the trio, in case Harry Patetta should succeed in cutting the rope.

On the outside, Alice Smith was flirting with John Mackin, the keeper of the seals. Behind the tent, the huge form of the balloon could be seen. The Pilot, Rocco Lupino was getting ready to take up Betty Rabinowitz, Josephine Shubiger and Frances Mears, Ernest Riccardi, Louis Sena, Anthony Vitale and William Casseres were struggling with the ropes to hold down the balloon; however, a gust of wind suddenly took the balloon into the air, with Bill Casseres dangling foolishly on one of the grounding ropes. Dorothy Maier let out a shrill cry of alarm on seeing her fiance so rudely taken from her, but was taken aside and comforted by Anne Schubarth, the police-woman.

Near this circus ground was the large building of the Athletic Club, erected by Elsie Morgan, the prominent heiress. In one of the private rooms, Miss Morgan was entertaining Virginia Sammis, Florence Rich and Doris McNeil, all prominent in the political field. In back of the building, Choice Frazier, Jerome Goldman, and Charles Fortunato were having a race around the fine quarter-mile track. At the end of the track, Jeanette Burgyes, Nanette Garrabrant and Augusta Meisel watch Edmund Vicine call it a dead heat. In the open-air pool, in the center of the field, Clara Madera, diving off a spring-board, hit the bottom of the tank with such a force that she was knocked unconscious. She was saved by the valient efforts of Jean Restaino and Mary Shreehan. During the excitement, caused by this thrilling episode, Alice Zneimer was pushed into the pool, utterly ruining her new frock and latest Paris hat. At the sight of such tragedy, Mildred Lambertson, the dressmaker, wept aloud.

So acted the Class of '27 in the knight's vision into the future.

Ye Puns

Quips and Cranks

THERE IT'S NOT SO GOOD

Wiener—On the level, Harry, how's your car?

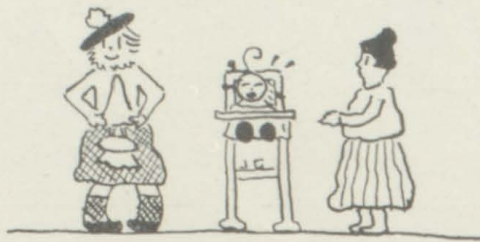

Frost—On the level, bum, but you should see it go down hill.

YES, THAT'S ENGLISH

We find that in English "Jeat" means "did you eat?"

HISTORY CRACKS

Miss B (in history report)—And he was wounded in the southern regions. (Again we repeat—where's that?)

YOU ARE TOO GENEROUS!

Scotch Father—What are you raving about?

Scotch Mother—Baby swallowed a penny.

S. F.—Oh, let him have it. To-morrow is his birthday.

ANOTHER ON THE SCOTCH

"Do you know why a Scotchman has a sense of humor?"

"No."

"It's a gift."

HUNGRY?

Teacher (to the Student)—Go down to the book room and see if Miss Rudd has a good supply of Lamb and Bacon.

IT'S LOGICAL

Mary—I always fixed my own wrist-watch, but I always have trouble with it.

Jane—Well, that is exactly why you have trouble with it.

HOME ROOM CRACK

Bernstein—If he fell would he hurt himself?

Gockeler—Give up.

Bernstein—No! Can't you see that he has his light fall overcoat on?

Our horn of plenty—Everybody's night on our radio loud speaker.

AT THE SENIOR PROM.

Senioress—That music fills me with hunger for—

Senior (hastily)—Let's dance.

OH, MY, YES!

M. Budd—I'm just as wise as you are.

E. Freeman—Well, you ought to be ashamed of yourself!

GOOD REASON!

Pa—Why did you hit your big brother?

Bobby—Because after I hit him he punched me.

"What a difference a few scents make," said the skunk. (This is no cigarette ad.)

THAT MAY BE

Lawyer (to man on box who was well acquainted with the jury)—Do you know more than half the jury?

Man—Huh! I know more than all of them put together. (Of course, he lost his case.)

First Senior—Do you know that Mr.—has lost his mind?

Second Senior—Well, no wonder. He's been giving the third period class a piece of it every day for three months.

IF AT FIRST YOU DON'T SUCCEED

H. Schoettly—I had to toss up yesterday afternoon to see whether I would go to play ball or study.

A. Smith—And the ball game won?

H. Schoettly—Yeh, but I had to toss up eleven times before I got it!

First Man—How's business?

Second Man—Picking up.

First Man—Yeh?

Second Man—Yes, I'm an ashman.

Senior—He's a "B" man.

Freshy—Go on! He doesn't go out for any sport.

Senior—Wait until I finish. I meant "B" in grade. That is, he's in 3B.

Mr. Dumm—Give another bad result of hard water.

R. L.—It puts a scale on pipes.

Mr. Dumm—Only on what kind of pipes?

R. L.—Water pipes.

THAT'S THE POINT

Jack—Bob, here is the pencil I borrowed from you.

Bob (upon the stub being handed to him)

—Why I loaned you a new one.

Jack—Yes, but I sharpened it for you.

and Merry Wiles

HAVE YOU EVER SEEN—

Harry Frost with a haircomb?
 Freeman away from the girls?
 Kesner looking like a tramp?
 Cataldo making no noise whatever?
 Schoettly without a permanent?
 Frances Mears without a smile?
 Voorhees without his lesson?
 Easton with a solemn face?
 A person look up to Bernstein?
 Or a 4A class in which every one has his lesson?
 We haven't seen 'em.

OH, BOY!

Wise—Do you know what caused his death?
 Guy—No. What?
 Wise—His thoughts.
 Guy—Evil thoughts?
 Wise—No. He thought that he could beat a train to a crossing, but he thought wrong.

SOME CAR

Body of man found on ranch by car.—
 (From one of our newspapers.)

RECREATION

They were enjoying a ride in the country. As the car started down a long steep hill its velocity became considerably accelerated. Mr. (upon whose brow rested a troubled look)—Emily! the brakes won't hold. Mrs. (impatiently)—Well, why don't you stop and fix them?

A FEW OF OUR TEACHERS' HOBBIES

Mr. Saylor—Selling rings.
 Mr. Dumm—Opening and closing windows.
 Miss Grork—A quiet study-room.
 Mr. Snively—The pretty girl in the front seat.
 Mrs. Hultman—English.
 Mr. Field—Giving out Poor Work marks.
 Mr. Townsend—Playing with Acropolis cuts.

A CLASSROOM CHAT

"There is a good play at the Broad this week. It is about a Scotchman and a Jew throwing away pennies."
 "Yea? What's the name of it?"
 "The Miracle."

A GOOD PLACE TO BE

Mr. Dumm—Where is potassium found?
 Chem. Pupils—In bed.

ONLY A MISPRINT

Mr. Snively (reading absence list)—
 Please announce—The library will be "close" all day to-day. I don't think that they mean that. But I have to read it.

THAT'S A QUESTION

It is said that the Lord made all crawling things. Does that mean the Clifton Car?

PAGE THE TREASURY

Miss R. (in Economics, explaining the U. S. monetary policy, but with mixed up dates)—In 1734 they coined only gold in the U. S. they—
 Mr. T.—Who coined money in the U. S. that early?

A LIGHT ONE

Miss Capin (to a student)—Will you please put on the lights but be very careful. Browne—If the lights don't light we'll know he's out.

OVERHEARD IN 65

J. F.—Why, he's working on his lessons for a change.
 H. P.—Yeh; but he won't get the change.

FROM THE CRITIC

Jimmie (to a friend who is watching a large lion in the zoo, pacing up and down roaring)—Gee! I bet he could kill twenty men now.
 Billy (who owns a dog)—Aw, he won't hurt you. Can't you see that he's waggin' his tail?

— and Wreathed Smiles

One—It's dark without.
Two—Without what?
One—Without a light, fool!

NO WONDER!

L. Q.—I just bought a new suit with two pair of pants. Like it?
A. R.—Looks fine.
P. B.—Gee, it must be hot with two pair of pants on.

YOU WIN THIS ONE!

Kirshen—Do you know that Tonus is very narrow-minded in an argument?
Moccia—Not at all. He admits there are two sides to every question—his side and the wrong side.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN

Mr.—They've just dropped the anchor.
Mrs.—I told you so! It's been hanging over the side of the ship in a very poor place for the last three days.

Miss L.—And she's got an awful cold.
Miss J.—Maybe that's because she wears such narrow garters.

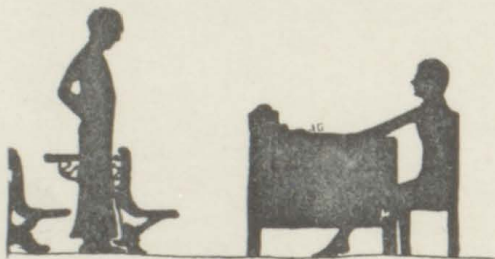

Miss Sophomore (to Mr. Saunders in the Geometry class)—What does Q. E. D. mean?

Mr. Saunder—Don't you know?
Miss Sophomore—I have an idea that it means Quite Easily Done. Is it right?

What the home wine-makers want.—Freedom of the Press.

GET THE POINT?

Farmhand—Hey, Boss, I hear you punctured your left tire in front of the hen-coop?
Farmer—Yes, I ran over some pin-feathers.

SOME PANIC

Teacher—Discuss the panic of 1873.
Student—Oh—Ah—I—Why in 1873 a panic occurred.

FROM THE HAPPINESS BOYS

First Mother Flea—And what is Willy going to do after he graduates?
Second Mother Flea—Oh, I guess he'll go to the dogs like his father.

CLEAN JOKE

During a discussion in Chemistry about no swimming in certain lakes and rivers so the water could be used for drinking:

Easton—But some birds that live on the banks get their only baths swimming there.
Mr. Dumm—Well, I don't know whether Easton speaks from experience or not, but—

IN A BOOK STORE

Student—Give me an O. Henry.
New Clerk—This ain't no candy store.

A BROADCASTING RECIPE

This is the tale of a young bride who asked her husband to copy a recipe as he heard it on the radio. He did his best, but he got two at once, one of which was broadcasting the morning exercises, and the other the recipe. Here's the result:

"Hands on hips, place one cup of flour on the shoulders, raise knees and depress the toes, and mix thoroughly in one cup of milk. Repeat six times. Inhale quickly one-half teaspoonful baking powder, lower the legs and mash two hardboiled eggs in a sieve. Exhale, breathe naturally, and sift in a bowl. In ten minutes remove from the fire, and rub smartly with a rough towel. Breathe naturally, dress in warm flannels, and serve with soup.

LAW SUIT

Freshman—He has a suit for every day in the week and one for holidays.
Junior—Go on.
Freshman—Sure; he's got it on now.

IT WAS, TOO!

L. M.—Come on over.
P. B.—Can't.
L. M.—Why not?
P. B.—Got a pressing engagement.
L. M.—What?
P. B.—Got to take my suit to the tailors.

PERVERTED CHEMISTRY

Mr. Dumm—What do you know about nitrates?
A. 4A—Well, all I know is that they are cheaper than day-rates.

PAGE THE CHIROPRACTOR

Pa (to sonny)—Don't rub the baby's head like that while his brain is growing.
Ma (to pa)—Some one must have rubbed your head vigorously.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of January, '27

We, the members of the Class of January, '27, of Barringer High School, of the City of Newark, of the County of Essex, of the State of New Jersey, being of (in) sane mind, poor memory and doubtful understanding, and being mindful of the blessings (homework, exams, etc.) bestowed upon us, do hereby publish and declare the following to be our last will and testament:

We hereby give and bequeath to our immediate successors, (probably) the Class of June, '27, the following privileges (?), to wit:

First:—The providing of stables for "ponies" belonging to pupils (not students, of course) of our school;

Second:—Exclusive rights to the race-course leading to the bakery from 11:45 to 12:30;

Third:—The privilege of sleeping in class (comfortable seats to be provided for the purpose);

Fourth:—The privilege of being absent on test-days.

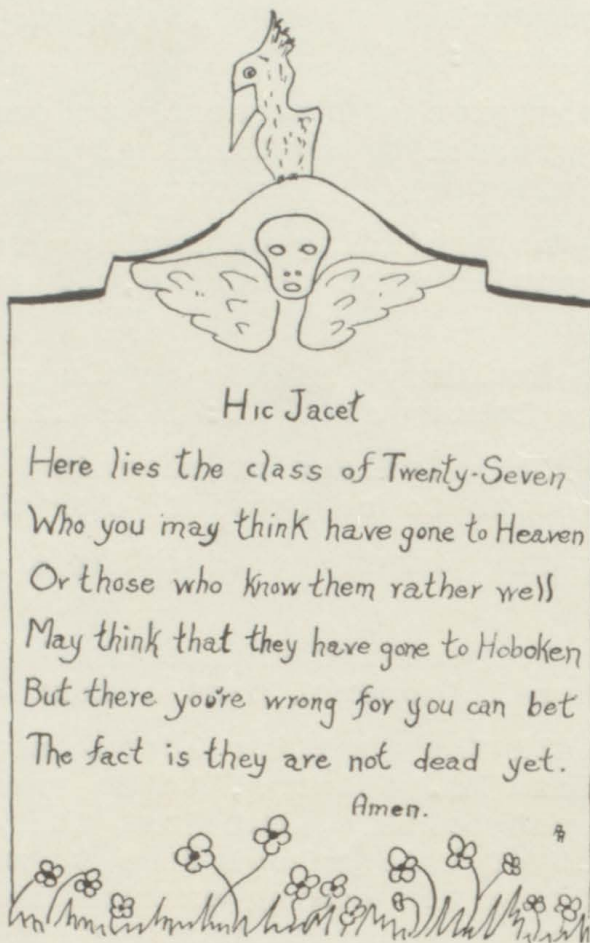

We do hereby devise and bequeath to the school in general (general pests, most of them):

First:—All the familiar lectures to be delivered by the Hon. Mr. Stearns, to be prefaced by "Now you may not believe, but just the other day an old student of this school came to me," or, "A word regarding the coming examinations," or, "Some of you may have heard this before but—," etc.

Second:—A fund to be used at the discretion of Mr. Stearns, for provision of baby-carriages, "scooters," express wagons and taxis for the transportation to and from school of Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors, respectively.

Third:—The office bench (the one so familiar to the—of the present 4A's).

In witness whereof, the said Class of January, '27, has herewith set its hand and seal, this 28th day of January, 1927.

Hic Jacet

Here lies the class of Twenty-Seven
Who you may think have gone to Heaven
Or those who know them rather well
May think that they have gone to Hoboken
But there you're wrong for you can bet
The fact is they are not dead yet.

Amen.

The College of Engineering —of— The Newark Technical School

A local institution of college grade giving regular four-year professional engineering courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Chemical, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.

The certificate of a first-class 4-year high school or equivalent work is required for entrance.

The College of Engineering offers to the young men of Newark and vicinity an opportunity to get a sound technical education at home at a reasonable cost.

A certain number of scholarships are available to young men of promise who have not the necessary funds.

Inquiries should be directed to the Registrar.
